

Participation to the archaeological excavations at the sites of Aigyrzhal No. 3 and No. 2 and survey at nearby sites (The excavations were conducted by the American University of Central Asia under the Direction of Professor Aida Abdykanova)

The site of Aigyrzhal No. 3

The excavation of an Andronovo period grave of the No.2 grave-complex at the site of Aigyrzhal No. 3

Infant burial unearthed from the No.2 grave-complex at the site of Aigyrzhal No. 3

Grave 1 of the No.2 grave-complex at the site of Aigyrzhal No. 3 (5m in the longer axis and 2.5m in the shorter axis, having yielded burnt bones)

Bronze object unearthed from Grave 1 of the No.2 grave-complex at the site of Aigyrzhal No. 3

Mesolithic layer at the site of Aigyrzhal No. 2 (confirmed in the lower part of the section with alternated brown and grey soils)

A Petroglyph around the site of Aigyrzhal No. 2

The grave-complex site of Ottuk, located 20km north of the site of Aigyrzhal, with many stone-piled graves distributed on the fan-like topography

GIS research at the grave-complex site of Ottuk